"ONE . . . TWO — I'll give you 'til the count of three to sign me into that closed section," Donald Ralstin, sophomore from Missoula seems to threaten Mrs. E. J. Herbenson. Tom Morrison, sophomore economics major from Rochester, New

Regents Approve BA's for Bozeman

Sessions of the State Board of Regents over the Christmas holidays resulted in passage of a measure to allow Montana State College to grant bachelor of arts degrees in English and history. Modernization of faculty employment contracts was also discussed, but no action was taken.

Although the move was a frankly admitted "deviation from the Master Plan," a majority of the regents defended it as only a change of name for degrees already given.

The BA degrees now given would replace two BS degrees given by MSC in general studies. General studies will be phased out of existence.

There was no formal opposition to the move from the Council of University Presidents, although MSU President Robert Johns made it plain he didn't think much of the idea.

Dr. Johns said faculty and curriculum at MSC were the concern of acting MSC President Leon Johnson, "but I expect the same consideration as he is getting."

He referred to the fact that MSU might want to upgrade its offerings in physical sciences to a degree program or put a civil engineering option in its forestry program.

Regent Boynton G. Paige voiced considerable opposition to the problem of duplication of classes, a worry the Master Plan was supposed to solve.

MSC Not Pressing

The acting MSC head said his institution had "no idea" of pressing for master's programs in the English and history fields.

He also stated no new courses would be added and no new expense incurred. He explained that the only reason bachelor of arts degree authority was sought was to make it easier to attract the best faculty.

Asked for "assurances" by regent Dr. Gordon Doering that the program wouldn't expand, Johnson would only say he couldn't "mortgage the future." As evidence of good faith, Johnson noted MSC was cutting back its program in commerce.

Eastern library expansion requires appropriation from the state legislature. The Board of Regents, requiring library expansion for a possible Liberal Arts program, in effect threw the issue out of their hands and into the laps of the legislators.

Tenure and Leaves

Questions of tenure and sabbatical leave were the subject of much debate, with no action taken before discussion was suspended. Proposals may be studied at length before any significant changes are made.

Several of the regents let it be known that they felt the employment contract offered to prospective faculty member should be competitive in terms of fringe benefits such as tenure and leave.

Acting President Johnson of MSC suggested a change in the present contract which requires an assistant professor be promoted to an associate professor before he can acquire tenure. The proposal says an assistant professor may be granted tenure after seven years in that rank in one institution.

Ski Weekend to Begin Jan. 24; Big Mountain Selected as Site

Ski Weekend is scheduled for Jan. 24-26 at Big Mountain, Whitefish, according to Alan Murphy, president of the Ski Weekend Committee.

The price will be $22 per student, he said. Tickets may be bought at the Lodge the week before the event. All interested skiers are asked to attend a meeting next week to make final plans.

Women students planning to attend the event will need parental permission. Parents of all women students have received a card from the University which is to be filled out if the parents wish to grant permission.

Girls may check with the secretary at Dean Clow's office to see if their card is on file.

The $22 fee includes transportation, lodging at Whitefish, food, tow tickets and club fees, Murphy said. All students who sign for the Weekend will become members of the MSU Ski Club.

Any student who has a car and insurance and would like to drive some of the skiers to Whitefish will be reimbursed three dollars for each person he takes, including himself.

Activities planned for the weekend include a dance Friday night and a dance and torch parade Saturday night. The torch parade will consist of persons skiing down the slopes carrying flares acquired from the railroad.

"With all the snow we've had lately it should be a fine weekend," Murphy said.

Faculty Recital Will Feature Fine Arts Dean

The first faculty recital of the new year, featuring Charles Bolen, dean of the fine arts school, and William Manning, assistant professor of music, will be presented Sunday, Jan. 12, at 8:15 in the Music Recital Hall.

Rudolph Wendt, professor of music, will provide piano accompaniment.

The music selections of the evening will effect a "Big Four" atmosphere.

Dean Bolen will play "Andante and Scherzo for Flute" by Frenchman Louis Ganne and "Sonata for Flute and Piano" by Russian contemporary Prokofieff.

Mr. Manning will perform "Sonatina for Clarinet" by the English composer Malcolm Arnold and "Concerto for Clarinet" by the American composer Aaron Copland. The concerto was written for Woody Herman. It is not a jazz work, although it does carry such rhythms throughout.

Dean Bolen is a professional flutist and former flute instructor for the National Music Camp.

Mr. Manning is a soloist and recitalist who is also first clarinetist with the Missoula Civic Orchestra.

The recital is open to the public.

'64 Winter Quarter Enrollment Up Over Last Winter Quarter

Students are still coming and total enrollment for this quarter may reach 4,600. This figure is an approximation based upon the enrollments of last fall and winter quarters.

Total registration for Monday was 3,765 as compared with 3,595 on the first day last winter quarter, according to Registrar Leo Smith. On Tuesday, 331 students registered and yesterday there was a steady flow of more late registrants into Main Hall.

The new system of registering in four different buildings worked quite effectively, said Mr. Smith. He pointed out that the lack of sufficient space in one central location necessitated this change. He also noted that there were a number of changes and improvements in the registration facilities this quarter.

The number of check-out stations was increased and "trouble tables" were installed to speed up the registration process.

Whether or not spring registration will be conducted in the same manner depends upon the availability of other space.

Mr. Smith added that for future registrations the number of cashiers' cages will probably be increased.

Miss MSU Finale Tonight

Talent competition tonight ends the first round of judging for the Miss MSU contest. Seven finalists will be selected for final competition in the annual Miss Montana Pageant, scheduled in the University Theater Saturday at 8 p.m.

A parade of 15 contestants attired in evening gowns will open the pageant, and when the contestants are all on stage the names of the finalists will be announced.

Final competition will include appearance in swimsuit, evening gown, and a three minute presentation of talent. Each contestant will also be asked two questions which she will answer before the audience; she will not be allowed to hear the answers of the other finalists.

Roberta Tarbox, Miss MSU and Miss Montana 1963, will crown the winner to climax the pageant. Two runners-up will also be selected.

Miss Talent will be chosen from those eliminated from final competition, and she will receive a trophy.

This contest is judged by the same rules as the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City; the ballots, talent sheets and the instructions are sent by the official Miss America Pageant.

Anicius and Placidia Celebrating 1500 Years of Wedded Bliss in '64

Happy New Year!
May you have many more.
In only 20 years,
T'will be 1984.

Nineteen sixty four is not merely 20 years before 1984, however. 'Tis a year fraught with all manners of miscellaneous meaning. That is, surprise of surprises, it is not just Montana territory's 100th birthday.

Hence, the list following has a practical purpose. Sometime in March, when you tire of scratching your Territorial Centennial beard, you may go ahead and shave it off, refer to this list and find other important occasions to commemorate in less itchy ways.

(1) 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's birth.

(2) 200th anniversary of the death of Madame de Pompadour, boon companion of Louis XIV for 20 years, a record for the tenure of Louis's boon companions.

(3) 1500th wedding anniversary of Anicius Olybius, a somewhat obscure Roman emperor, and Placidia, daughter of Valentinian III.

(4) 10th anniversary of the formal censure of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy by the United States Senate.

(5) 300th anniversary of the invention of the spinning jenny by James Hargreaves. (If you want to hold off to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the patenting of that mechanism, you'll have to wait until 1970.)

(6) 500th anniversary of Cosimo di Medici's rather lavish funeral.

(7) 1900th anniversary of Nero's debut as concert soloist on the lyre. (Contrary to popular opinion, the violin was not then in existence. Neither was the fiddle.)

(8) 1900th anniversary of the burning of Rome by a concert soloist on the lyre.

(9) 21st anniversary of all people born in 1943.

Have a cheery year, for in only 20 years, George Orwell's Big Brother may be watching you, if he isn't already. —whw

Slums and Jobs

Negroes Need Rights, But Not Quotas

Biologically, Negroes are not inferior to us white folks—Francis Ashley-Montagu said so here Wednesday night (scientists have been saying it for years). This has been kind of a sore loss for a lot of segregationists who have stood with all four feet planted on the notion that "There ain't no use doin' anything for the damm niggers cause they haven't got the sense to take advantage of it anyway." This is an example of the kind of inverted logic which shields so many lost causes. Segregationists say that they do not provide equal opportunities for Negroes because Negroes are not capable of maintaining equal standards. As Mr. Ashley-Montague so adequately pointed out, they cannot really maintain any kind of equal standards until they have equal ground on which to perform.

Among the prizes for which Negroes have fought the hardest are jobs. After all, if they are ever to move out of the slums, they must have some means of obtaining the money it takes to move somewhere else. U.S. News and World Report recently quoted some figures which indicated that unemployment is twice as high among Negroes as among white people. Negro leaders seem to feel that a great deal of this Negro unemployment is due to discrimination by labor unions. A Negro local in Texas recently charged a similar white local of unfair and discriminatory practices. Negro labor leaders have asked that the National Labor Relations Board establish a clear and tightly defined policy protecting Negro workers against racial prejudice.

The white union leaders have answered the Negro protests by defending their system of seniority, a practice which they justly claim is essential to maintenance of the basic union function.

At the same time, Congress is working on a resolution which provides for an employment system in which employers would be forced to hire a specified number from different races, disregarding seniority, and at times even disregarding basic qualification for the job.

This policy would definitely cancel a basic right of all workers and would certainly impair the effective functioning of labor unions. The Kaimin is against the use of such quota systems in labor legislation. We do not believe that a society can numerically integrate itself, particularly when this would mean abolishing other important human rights. Such a measure might provide more jobs for Negroes. It might also promote a good deal of bloodshed.

We do believe, however, that protection should be provided for Negro workers within the basic framework of unions as they exist at present. We advocate a clearly defined legal policy which does not tamper with union seniority, but which does insure a Negro's right to obtain and hold a job. —cripe

James Baldwin and His 'Jungle'

Editor's Note: The following is an excerpt from a review of James Baldwin's "Another Country" in the Jan. 11 Saturday Review.

By JOHN CIARDI

"Searing . . . violent . . . brilliantly and fiercely told," says the jacket of the paperback, quoting the New York Times. Such are the praises our critics heap on Baldwin, and he has earned them all. But is such praise a whole praise? The critics, to be sure, have always tended to be especially generous to Negro writers and for understandable reasons. But in the long run, I must insist, there must be no Negro writers, but only men as other men and committed to all men. As Baldwin's great talent grows, I shall hope his panhuman commitment will allow him to see that however many snake pits this world breeds, there is still in it the dream of a greensward. Nor am I asking him to climb the Negro Calvary only to play Pollyanna at the top. I am simply saying that an artist, whatever his color, creed, or other commitments, must walk more than a jungle, though jungle he must walk through.

Guest Editorial

The State Prison at Missoula

Editor's Note: The following editorial appeared in the Dec. 18, 1963, issue of the Helena Independent-Record. We are reprinting it not because we agree with its point of view, but because we feel our readers should have an opportunity to view the other side of the social restrictions coin—a side that is all too often left unstated.

Most people think that the State Prison is at Deer Lodge, but after reading a few issues of The Kaimin, the student newspaper at Montana State University, it becomes readily apparent that there is at least a branch prison at Missoula.

This branch consists of the women's dormitories on the campus where the residents are required to be in their rooms at a specified hour each evening or else face disciplinary measures.

Some of the students are in an uproar over the rules and regulations which they contend treat "adults" as though they were children.

These women students, or at least some of them, have joined with some of the sympathizing men students in an effort to achieve liberty, or at least what they think is liberty.

They affirm that an adult woman, who is a girl over 21, should be allowed to stay out as late as she pleases, or at least almost as late as she pleases, or she should be allowed to have her own apartment off campus.

The student campaign leaves us cold.

If these kids want to carouse around all night and then sleep through the next day's activities we haven't the slightest objection.

Zags Trip Tips 100-83 Wrestlers Victorious, Tangle Again Today

By NORM AMUNDSON
Kaimin Sports Reporter

Montana set all kinds of season records last night but still lost to the Gonzaga Bulldogs 100-83 in the Grizzlies' Big Sky Conference opener in Spokane.

It was the most points that MSU has scored all season, but the fast-breaking Bulldogs proved to be too much.

Gonzaga drove into the lead 21-20 on a free throw by Rich Juarez midway in the first half and never trailed thereafter. With senior forward Bill Wilson paying the way with 18 points, the Zags moved to a 48-41 lead at intermission.

Wilson scored 13 of his team's 15 points at one point in that stretch. GU once led by 11 during the splurge.

The two teams exchanged baskets for several minutes early in the final half, but Gonzaga gradually pulled away with Wilson and senior forward Jim Harris finding the range. The GU lead stretched to 20 points with 12 minutes remaining and reached as high as 23 shortly thereafter. The largest Zag margin was 76-53.

Wilson finished with the game's high of 30 points. Senior forward Keith Law paced the Grizzlies with 18.

It was the fourth time the Bulldogs have hit the century mark this season, and the first time since last season that anyone has scored 100 points against MSU. Seattle University did it a year ago, 100-63.

The win gave Gonzaga a 6-5 season record and a 2-0 mark in the Big Sky. It was MSU's third loss in eight games, and first in conference play. The Grizzlies had won three straight on the road before last night.

The Zags will try to make it three in a row in Big Sky play tomorrow night against the Montana State College Bobcats at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. The Grizzlies entertain the Air Force Academy in non-league action at the Field House.

The scoring:

Gonzaga (100) — Wilson (30), Juarez (4), McChesney (10), Harris (12), Suter (17), Deschaine (6), Taylor (11), Steele (6), Patrick (2) and Farrell (2).

Montana (83)—Law (18), Aldrich (13), Peck (9), Pramenko (12), Greenfield (2), Persha (6), Peterson (6), Rice (5), Fullerton (4) and Quist (8).

Ski Conditions Are Excellent

By JERRY RHOADES

Skiing this weekend should be excellent. Snow Bowl reports a good base ranging from 10 to 40 inches with 15 inches of fresh powder at 5 p.m. yesterday.

All lifts will be operating, with a good possibility of the Grizzly Run being open.

Cubs Return to Court After Month's Layoff

The MSU Cubs return to basketball action this weekend after more than a month's layoff when they meet the undefeated Dawson Junior College Buccaneers in the Field House Saturday night.

The game will be a preliminary to the Grizzly-Air Force contest and will start at 6 p.m.

The Cubs opened the season with a 72-61 victory over the Carroll College freshmen here Dec. 3 and haven't played since. Dawson has won seven games without a loss. The Bucs met the Williston branch of the University of North Dakota Tuesday night but that score was not available.

Dawson Junior College is located in Glendive (eastern Montana) and has an enrollment of 94. The Bucs are small too. The starting five averages only six feet tall.

High Scoring Team

Short they may be, but the Bucs are averaging 86.9 points a game compared to their opponents 59.3. All five starters in the DJC lineup are scoring in the double figures.

Larry Datta, 5-10 guard, paces the fast-breaking Bucs with a 16.2 average. Other starters will probably be guard Clair Garrick (5-10), forwards Rick Mahugh (6-1) and Doug Weber (6-0), and center Wayne Hurst (6-4).

MSU freshman coach Tom Flynn has called three players down from the varsity this week to gain some needed experience and to supplement his ailing bench.

Aid From Varsity

Walt Jensen and Bill Sullivan, both 6-4 sophomore forwards who have seen limited action with the Grizzlies thus far, and transfer Gary Meggellin, 6-0, will suit up with the Cubs. The freshman squad was hurt by the departures of Ed Metz, Chuck Walle and Bruce Dailey during Christmas vacation.

Meggellin transferred from the Southwest Junior College in California and will be eligible for varsity competition immediately if he shows promise with the freshmen. His coach at the junior college was former Grizzly great Bob Cope.

Flynn said he will start Jensen and Sullivan at forwards, and Jon King (5-11), Doug McDonald (6-1) and Doug Bachman (6-1) at guards.

Slated to see considerable action are Meggellin, Tom Grisamore (6-3), Dean Greeno (6-2), Jim Shea (6-2) and Jim Kastelitz (6-1). Forward Glenn Smith (6-3), a starter against Carroll, sprained his ankle in practice Monday and may not play.

Montana State University won its first wrestling match as a varsity team Saturday beating Washington State University at Pullman, Wash., 18-16.

The eight-man squad won four of the eight matches, two by forfeit. The individual results were: 123 lbs., John Black, MSU, by forfeit over Bob Kannberg; 130 lbs., Dick Southern, MSU, by forfeit over Roger Short; 137 lbs., Albritton, WSU, pinned Tim Locke; 147 lbs., Dennis Lucey, MSU, 9-7 decision over Anderson; 157 lbs., Dan Hensley, WSU, 4-0 decision over Ken Johnson; 167 lbs., Dennis Price, MSU, pinned Elliot Simkins; 177 lbs., Frank Nichols, WSU, 7-2 decision over Duane Jackson; heavyweight, Randy Cooper, WSU, pinned Dean Hermes.

Today MSU will travel to Cheney, Wash., to meet Eastern Washington College. Eight regulars will compete. Four other MSU men will wrestle in exhibition matches. Saturday the team will travel to Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash.

There are 23 men on the wrestling team. John Polo, MSU wrestling coach, said that they are enthusiastic and show promise for a good year. Practice began Nov. 1 and Polo feels the MSU team will be in better shape than most other teams this early in the season.

One of the most important developments in wrestling this year is that the two-second pin rule has been changed to one second, Polo said. The reason for this, he continued, is to get the men ready for the Olympics, where a pin will be called if the shoulder touches the mat at all.

MSU has 14 matches this year plus the Big Sky Conference Championships at Bozeman, March 7.

FALCON SCORING ACE — Johnny Judd, 5-8 Air Force senior guard, is the leading Falcon scorer with an average of 15 points in nine games this year. Judd is a two-year letterman from Seymour, Ind. The Falcons play the Grizzlies at 8 tomorrow night in the Field House.

Grizzlies, Air Force Play Here Tomorrow

The MSU Grizzlies will meet their toughest competition thus far in the season tomorrow night as the Air Force Academy Falcons come flying into the Field House.

The Falcons, considered by Grizzly coach Ron Nord as one of the finest teams in the Rocky Mountain area, are appearing on Montana's homecourt for the first time. The two schools met last year for the first time with the Falcons winning 86-62 at Colorado Springs.

Air Force has a 5-4 record which includes a 65-61 victory over Brigham Young on the Cougars' home floor. It was BYU who handed the Grizzlies their worst defeat of the year a week ago, 89-65. AFA's record would be more impressive had the team won its close contests with such highly rated teams as Missouri, Florida and Houston. The Falcons meet Utah State University in Logan tonight, then fly here tomorrow morning for the game.

Air Force uses a ball control offense and a glove-tight pressing defense. The Falcons' attack is averaging 71.4 ppg and has held the opposition to 63.2.

Johnny Judd, a 5-8 court magician, is leading the Falcons with a 15.0 scoring average. A deadly shooter, Judd has hit an amazing 80.6 per cent of his free throws in the three seasons to date.

Teaming with Judd out front will be 6-0 Scott Etnyre. AFA will probably also start forwards Sam Peshut (6-5) and Rich Porter (6-3), and center Roger Head (6-5).

The Falcons are a hot-shooting team, hitting 45 per cent from the field and 72 per cent on free throws. The Grizzlies, on the other hand, are scoring 38 per cent on field goals and have made 65 per cent of their charity tosses.

MSU coach Ron Nord said he will start any of eight men against AFA. They are guards Tim Aldrich (6-1), Jim Pramenko (6-0), Gary Peck (5-10) and Mike Persha (6-3), and forwards Keith Law (6-4), Harold Fullerton (6-3), Bill Rice (6-5) and Rocky Greenfield (6-8).

1964: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we go into 1964, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1954 which ends with the Figure 4. Of course, when it comes to Figure 4's, 1964, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1444 which, most people agree, had not just one, not just two, but three Figure 4's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least a thousand years!

1444 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know, the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite.

There are, of course, certain difficulties connected with a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great problem, what with modern scientific advances like electronics and the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find Lake Michigan is attached to all the other Great Lakes, which in turn are attached to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is attached to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say as I blame them. Put yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British costermonger who had been saving and scrimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance the Lambeth Walk. This, you must agree, would not help make you NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but I ask you—Chicagoans, Phoenixians—is it too big a price to pay for preserving the unity of the free world?

I feel sure that if you search your hearts, you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-infested Phoenix, or narrow-lapelled New Haven—are first and foremost Americans!

But I digress. We were speaking of 1964, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How, you ask, can there be new pleasure in Marlboros when that fine flavorful blend of tobaccos, that clean efficient Selectrate filter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that age cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each puff, each cigarette, each pack, each carton, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

Therefore, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1964. May good fortune attend our ventures! May serenity reign! May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow!

Coach Promises Good Recruiting

An immediate promise to begin recruiting for next year was made by Hugh Davidson upon being appointed head MSU football coach Dec. 24.

Davidson, an assistant under fired coach Ray Jenkins for six years, was selected from a field of more than 50 applicants from all parts of the country.

Athletic director Wally Schwank, who made the final recommendation of Davidson to MSU Pres. Robert Johns, said he was chosen above many highly qualified candidates, including both small college head coaches and assistants from large colleges.

Schwank said Davidson had a "big advantage" over other applicants in knowing Montana and being well liked throughout the state. Davidson is also well liked and respected by members of the football squad, Schwank said.

Wasted No Time

Davidson wasted no time in recruiting. Following New Year's Day, he took a short trip around Montana, stopping in both Great Falls and Billings, and then left for the National Coaches Convention in New York Sunday.

Davidson promised that the Grizzlies will use a more wide open type of offense in the future. He said his teams will operate from both the wing T and slot formations with considerable emphasis on a passing game.

"We have the nucleus of a good football team on the campus, and I hope to add some players in key spots who will help us win ball games," he said. The head coach indicated he will concentrate partially on recruiting pass receivers to go with returning quarterbacks Tom Huffer and Bob Benzley.

Schwank Retained

One of Davidson's first announcements as head coach was the selection of Milt Schwank as freshman football coach. Schwank was line coach for four years under Jenkins. He will retain his job as head baseball coach which he has had for two years.

Davidson said that two additional assistant coaches will be appointed soon.

A 35-year-old native of Grant, Neb., Davidson has been coaching since 1952. Following graduation from the University of Colorado in 1952 where he played for Coach Dallas Ward, he began coaching at Osborne, Kan. During his two years there, his high school teams compiled a 16-1-1 won-loss record and won two conference championships.

Davidson left Osborne in 1954 and assumed the job as head freshman coach at Colorado for four years before coming to Montana in 1958.

Davidson's football knowledge has brought him national recognition several times within the past few years. In 1961, he addressed the Pittsburgh convention of American Football Coaches on secondary pass defense. Last summer, he was one of two coaches selected by the Army and Air Force to conduct a series of clinics in Hawaii, Japan, Okinawa and Korea for football coaches and officials.

Two of his pupils at Montana were regulars in the professional ranks last fall as defensive specialists. Terry Dillon started half the season with the Minnesota Vikings, and Bob O'Billovich was with the Ottawa Roughriders.

Davidson is a veteran of two years active duty in the Navy and later served in the Air Force Reserve. He and his wife, Jane, have three daughters.

Jenkins was fired Nov. 22 after his team won only a single game against nine losses. It was the worst record for MSU since 1958 when the Grizzlies were 0-10 in Jenkins' first year as head coach.

Kaimin Prognosticator

Prophet Picks MSU To Top Weber State

By TOM SULLIVAN

With 19 correct predictions in 22 games during the vacation, an 85 per cent clip, the prognosticator's season average jumped to 73 per cent.

The Grizzlies tackle a pair of tough opponents this week in the Air Force Academy and conference foe Weber State. The Grizzlies should fall to the powerful Falcons, but the crystal ball shows an upset in the Weber State game with the Tips defeating the highly rated Wildcats.

The game to watch in Big Sky action this week will be the Weber State-MSU contest Thursday. The winner could well be the league champion. The Bobcats should win on their home floor.

Last week the prophet received a few nasty notes from Catville after predicting that the University of Washington would beat MSC. The Bobcats won by 12 points.

So, in fear of ever again pulling the Cats' tail, I take another step into the twilight zone.

Freshmen Spark Debate Team With Victories in Minot Meet

Freshmen are kindling enthusiasm in MSU debates this year.

In the Northern Great Plains Tournament at Minot, Dec. 13 and 14, Duncan Crump captured a first-place trophy in extemporaneous speaking and a third-place trophy in parliamentary procedure.

Twelve colleges from six states and Canada participated.

Two freshmen vanguards of the winter quarter debate meets are competing at the Inland Empire Debate Tournament today and tomorrow.

Walter Kirkpatrick and David Rye are vying for honors in the meet at the University of Idaho in Moscow along with other schools from the Northwest.

Mrs. Marjorie King Is Appointed to Board of Regents

Mrs. Marjorie King, wife of a Winnett rancher, was appointed to the Montana State Board of Education and University Regents Monday after stepping down from her position on the Montana Library Commission.

Gov. Tim Babcock appointed Mrs. King to succeed the late Mrs. F. H. Petro of Miles City who had been a member of the board for nearly 15 years. Mrs. Petro died of cancer Christmas Day following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. King's term on the Board of University Regents will expire Feb. 1, 1965.

Mrs. King has served as a member of the Winnett School Board for three years and as chairman of the Winnett Public Library Board.

Library Changes Proposed

A student sub-committee of the Friends of the Library voted unanimously at a recent meeting for approval of improvements for the Library. The committee, which is not a part of Central Board, is composed of Carol Skalsky, Don La Bar and Don Pangburn.

The committee adopted the following suggestions.

1. Revamp the Library hours. The Library should be open from 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. on weekdays, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturdays and 1 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on Sundays. It would not be closed for dinner on any day as is the practice at present.

WAVE INTERVIEWS SET

Interviews with women interested in the WAVE Officer Program will be conducted Monday.

Lt. Patricia A. Clark, representative, will be at the Placement Center, LA 133.

2. Construct a lounge, possibly in the basement for students to study and relax. The lounge should be well ventilated and attractive.

3. Leave Rooms 102 and 106 open for study.

4. Build a book depository so that students may return books at any time.

5. Place quiet signs inside the Library.

Nominee for Poetry Pulitzer To Appear on MSU Campus

Jack Gilbert, winner of the 1962 Yale Younger Poets Award and nominee for the 1962 Pulitzer Prize, will appear on the MSU campus Jan. 23 and 24.

Mr. Gilbert will speak to a creative writing class and to sections of major American writers classes. The noted poet will read some of his works at 8 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 23 in the Music Recital Hall.

He was one of four poets selected to represent American poetry last April at Princeton University's comprehensive survey of the creative arts in America today.

Mr. Gilbert has been invited by the New York Poetry Center to be part of its seminar on contemporary poetry. He will also participate in the "Focus" symposium at Randolph-Macon College in March.

Mr. Gilbert's book, "Views of Jeopardy," was acclaimed as one of the best works of poetry of 1962.

Mr. Gilbert has been called the most provocative reader of poetry in America today. He was one of the two poets given a special prize for his reading at the last San Francisco Poetry Festival.

Mr. Gilbert has taught at the University of California, San Francisco State College and for The Ford Foundation.

He has published in "Encounter," "Atlantic Monthly" and "Nation."

Several Northwest Schools Operate FM Radio Stations

MSU's radio and television studios are trying to get a FM radio station on campus. One hundred twenty-two educational radio stations are operated by the 112 radio and television departments, according to the National Association of Broadcasters.

FM radio stations are not a new thing to the Northwest. Some of the schools having radio stations are: University of Oregon, KWAX; Oregon State University, KOAC (AM); University of Washington, KUOW; Washington State University, KWSC (AM), KUGR; Central Washington State College, KEWS; Pacific University, KPUR; Eastern Washington State College, KEWC, and North Dakota University, KFJM (AM).

Other FM radio stations are located at the University of Idaho, Idaho State University, BYU, Denver University, University of Utah, Utah State and Colorado State University.

MSU's radio and television department is one of 112 departments in U.S. colleges and universities which offer a degree in radio and television.

Not all of the 112 colleges and universities offering degrees are accredited, although MSU's is, according to Philip J. Hess, director of the radio and television studios.

MSU has complete television facilities at the radio and television department and is one of the 104 departments which have a television studio or closed circuit facilities.
